(Amendment) Bill*

“APPENDIX”

THE EAST AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT BANK
(AMENDMENT) BILL, 2013

MEMORANDUM

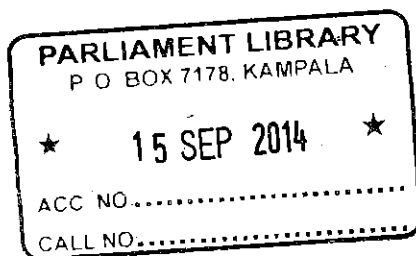

1. The object of this Bill is to amend the East African Development Bank Act; to provide for giving effect to the Charter approved at the summit of the East African Heads of State meeting.
2. At the 43rd meeting of the Governing Council held on 15th March, 2012 in Nairobi, the Governing Council approved not only the outstanding proposed amendments to articles 45 and 46 but also approved amendments to articles 3, 4 and 24 of the Charter. The amendments to Articles 3 and 4 seek to allow Class B shareholders of the Bank to subscribe to callable capital. Article 24 also was amended at the meeting so as to establish the status of the Bank. The Bill seeks to give effect to all these amendments.
3. The Act as it now stands, only protects the Bank from legislative and executive action. At present section 3 of Cap.52 provides that certain articles specified in the Schedule to the Act should have the force of law in Uganda. These articles included article 45 – Judicial proceedings and article 46 – Immunity of assets.

These two articles had provided protection to the Bank against certain judicial proceedings and certain actions against the assets of the Bank e.g. requisition, by executive or legislative action. The protection afforded by the above mentioned articles were found inadequate. Therefore the relevant articles were amended to enhance the protection and to confer on the Bank immunity from every form of legal process with necessary exceptions.

4. Article 52 of the Charter of the East African Development Bank empowers the Governing Council of the Bank by resolution to amend the Charter.
5. The Charter was thus amended in 2005 to give immunity to the Bank inter alia against every form of legal process except in cases arising out of the exercise of the Bank's borrowing powers when it may be sued only in a court of competent jurisdiction in a Member State in which the Bank has an office, has appointed an agent for the purpose of accepting service or notice of process or has issued or guaranteed securities.
6. The new amendment also seeks to protect the Bank against execution of judgments on its assets.
7. At present the relevant protection given to the Bank appears in articles 45 and 46 of the Charter as it was when Cap.52 was passed.
8. Further, the Bill seeks to replace section 3 of Cap.52 to give effect to future amendments of the articles listed in the Schedule to the Act when new amendments are made by the Governing Council under article 52 of the Charter.
9. Additionally, the new section 3 incorporates a provision empowering the Minister with the approval of Cabinet to amend the Schedule by statutory instrument to reflect any amendments of such future amendments of the Charter. This is to make the law clear to all concerned. The instrument will indicate when the amendment of the Charter came into force.

10. An instrument made under this new provision is required to be laid before Parliament for its information within twenty one days after publication in the Gazette.
11. At the above meeting of the Governing Council, after making amendments to the Treaty and the Charter, the Governing Council substituted for the text of the Charter a new text. It is felt desirable therefore to replace the Schedule with a new Schedule replacing the whole text of the Charter in the manner in which the East African Community Treaty was dealt with by the East African Community Act, 2002, Act No.13 of 2002

MARIA KIWANUKA,
Minister of Finance, Planning and Economic Development.
